

BLENDING TECHNOLOGY, SERVICE AND VALUE

PRIVACY POLICY for APEX ANODIZING and www.apexanodizing.com

Summary: We promise to not share our customers' personal information with any third-parties, unless a law enforcement agency properly request the information (such as with a subpoena).

Introduction - Apex Anodizing is committed to protecting any data that we collect concerning you. By using our services you agree to the use of the data that we collect in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

We are committed to protecting your privacy - We collect the minimum amount of information about you that is commensurate with providing you with a satisfactory service. This Policy indicates the type of processes that may result in data being collected about you. Your use of this website and/or by requesting our services, gives us the right to collect that information.

Information Collected - We may collect any or all of the information that you give us depending on the type of transaction you enter into, including your name, address, telephone number, fax number and email address, together with data about your use of the website. Other information that may be needed from time to time to process a request may also be collected.

Information Use - We use the information collected primarily to process the task for which you requested our services or visited our website. All reasonable precautions are taken to prevent unauthorized access to this information. This safeguard may require you to provide additional forms of identity should you wish to obtain information about your account details. Apex Anodizing may e-mail its monthly newsletter or similar marketing e-mails to the primary contact e-mail on file, but customers are able to opt out of these programs at any time.

Disclosing Information - We do not disclose any personal information obtained about you while performing our services or from our website to third parties. We may use the information to keep in contact with you and inform you of developments associated with our business. You will be given the opportunity to remove yourself from any mailing list or similar device. If at any time in the future we should wish to disclose information collected on this website to any third party, it would only be with your knowledge and consent. We may from time to time provide information of a general nature to third parties - for example, the number of individuals visiting our website or completing a registration form, but we will not use any information that could identify those individuals.

Cookies - Your Internet browser has the in-built facility for storing small files - "cookies" - that hold information which allows a website to recognize your account. Our website takes advantage of this facility to enhance your experience. You have the ability to prevent your computer from accepting cookies but, if you do, certain functionality on the website may be impaired.

Changes to this Policy - Any changes to our Privacy Policy will be placed here and will supersede this version of our Policy. We will take reasonable steps to draw your attention to any changes in our Policy. However, to be on the safe side, we suggest that you read this document each time you use the website to ensure that it still meets with your approval.

Disclosure to Law Enforcement - Apex Anodizing may disclose any subscriber information to law enforcement agencies without further consent or notification to the subscriber upon lawful request from such agencies. We will cooperate fully with law enforcement agencies.

Contacting Us - If you have any questions about our Privacy Policy, or if you want to know what information we have collected about you, please contact us here: info@apexanodizing.com. You can also correct any factual errors in that information or require us to remove your details from any list under our control.